Anarcho-Hedonism

Realize with ultimate freedom comes the ultimate responsibility. In a hedonistic lifestyle you must realize the consequences of your lifestyle. If you drink too much you'll get hangovers and your liver may be fucked, too many drugs may fuck your mind and body, if you don't use protection you could get a disease or pregnant, sleeping with a friend may fuck up the friendship or make it better, and so on. So make sure that you look after yourself and others while enjoying life and helping others to enjoy themselves. Who wants to live a long life if you spend it worrying and being boring, I'd rather lose a few years, if it means I die with a smile on my face.

Safe buggery

I've heard a lot of people saying that they've tried it but it hurt or was uncomfortable, so they don't try it again, that's like tasting a type of food once and saying however it's prepared it tastes bad without even trying it again. Of course sometimes this is true but not all of the time.

The anal area has a lot of nerve endings, anal fun can be really good, and orgasms have been achieved through anal play alone. But anal fun also requires a high level of awareness.

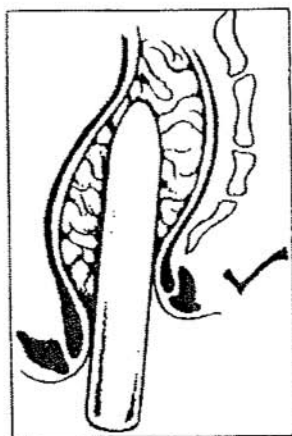

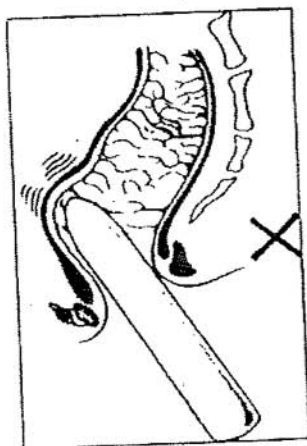

The receptive person should make their partner aware of past experiences and any problem that may have occurred. Use heaps of lube, but only water based cos oil lubes weaken condoms. Remember: "lube early" and "lube often." Also use protection, on sex toys too, cos it means you can use em in many ways without having to clean them every time, just replace the condom. But after a session always clean 'em, just in case.

When penetrating start small and gentle.
When inserted wait until they're relaxed,
add more lube when necessary.

Try inserting another finger if you want,
but go slow. As with most sex, anal requires feedback from both partners. The receiver must communicate clearly, so no mistakes happen. If it feels wrong, then something is wrong, stop if necessary. Don't just take it to please the other person.

Communication is essential always so remember:

.information. .protection.
.lubrication.
.relaxation. .communication.

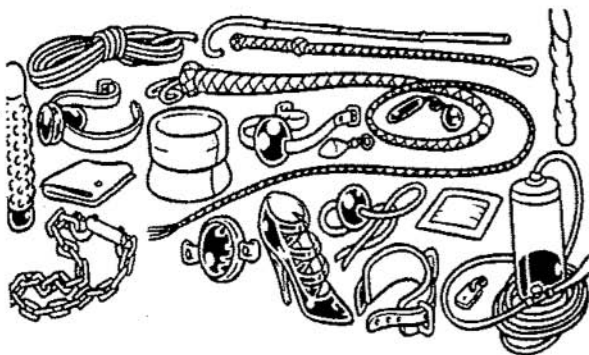

The girl who finds herself under daily temptation of this kind, or finds that sexual thoughts and interests are distracting her from healthy play and companionship, or taking her mind from her work, should get the advice of a competent and sympathetic doctor.

Cunnifingus, using the spot between your partner's fingers, give her a sneak preview of what is to come later using your tongue and a moistened finger. It can be done almost anywhere and anytime. The symbolism, if not the sensation will drive her crazy.

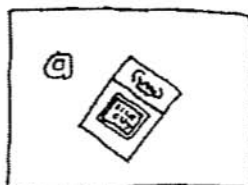

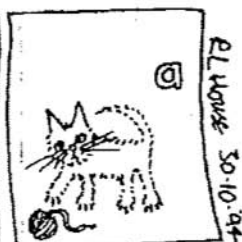

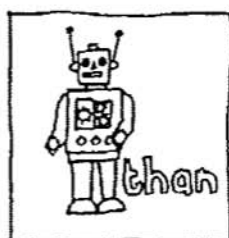

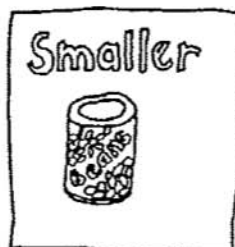

Try using a toothbrush as a sex toy, stroking the body on various spots, or even as a spanking tool.

Ladies, dab a little of your vaginal fluids behind your ears, on your wrists, wherever you normally wear perfume.

An ordinary teaspoon, left in the fridge, makes a good substitute for ice cubes.

Facing each other, masturbate her with your toes, while sucking her toes.

Masochistic Monks

I like to do strange things to myself, and others, that some people may find strange or a bit gross. I like to do them, if it feels good and its all consenting then what's the fucking problem. The more you experiment the more you find what you like. If someone doesn't like a particular fetish of yours then they're not really for you. So go out and have fun and be naughty.

I was living in Ireland for a while, but was unable to find people who were as open about their perversion as I was. I was shocked in a place where the hellfire club flourished and holy men would beat themselves bloody in the name of god; I couldn't find a few good perverts.

sex toys for men?

I have read and seen
a few articles or artwork suggesting
things like blow up dolls are sexist, a fantasy image of women, portraying
them as objects.

That's crap, I've worked in a porn
shop and if you've seen what they look like outside the box, you'd know what I mean.

They are used by various people. Here are a few examples I've seen. The travelling business man who doesn't want to cheat on his wife but is bored with his hand and has a company expense account or credit card, most likely to throw it out when he leaves the place he's visiting. Maybe it the young guy who's painfully shy, has a bit of money, and doesn't want to go to a sexworker.

Maybe the guy who is going to the bush for a while with minimal human contact. The buyer of these toys is wide and varied. There are a few sorts. There's a few different sort the basic ones are the ones that people know, the plastic blow up doll with a few different holes. Then there's the molded model, these are solid latex but only the area from the belly button to the top of the legs and are very scarily porno stars bits and you can even buy a male model with a dick. They've got the standard holes, but look like disembodied genitals; some are even just a mouth. Then there's the one I've heard about on the internet that are full latex body custom made in a position of choice but cost $$$$$$.

To look at them you could say they are just a male fantasy of woman, but if you've met the guys who buy them you'd think differently. They aren't buying them for sexist reasons, they buy them 'cos they're shy or lonely or just plain horny.

Why is it if a woman buys a dildo or vibrator (a representation of a disembodied penis) she's independent knows what she wants and is empowered. But if a guy buys a toy for men he's a sad lonely sexist pervert.

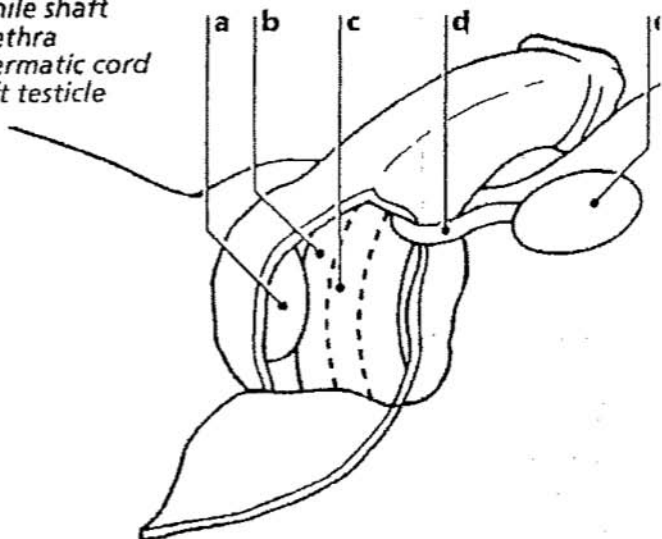

If we want equality it must be in all things.

imperfection is beauty.

I hate perfection, it's boring, we are surrounded by images of so called perfect people, and it bores me. I like people who are NQR (not quite right.) it gives a person character and makes them someone to remember. I am attracted to whoever I'm attracted to and no one will dictate to me who I can desire. A lot of the times the beautiful people are the worst fucks, because they expect you to do all the work cos it's a privilege to fuck 'em. The person who is not perfect is more real and will fuck your brains out. And maybe their imperfections will bring a whole new dimension, you never thought of, to your sex life. like the guy in the wheelchair who can go for hours cos he can't feel below the waist. The person with the big nose adding that bit extra to cunnilingus and the amazing hands of a blind person. The list is endless, so go out there do what

I have certain fantasies

You can desire me

you want and fuck yourself silly, remember people who try to control your sex life have problems with their own. And the only bad sex is sex that is non consensual.

the g spot stroke

make a "come here" finger movement to stroke your finger pads across the membranous tissue. Vary the pressure to find out what feels the best - if there is pain lighten the pressure or discontinue the stroking.

At the 12 o'clock position slowly introduce your right index and middle fingers into the vagina until the finger pads are pressing upwards above (beyond) the pubic bone

(this is approximately the G-Spot area inside the vagina)

I choose not to breed

Years ago I decide not to breed. Now, as soon as I have the money, I will go the next step further and get a vasectomy. If at a later stage I wanna breed I'll adopt 'cos I'd rather help someone who's already here than add another to the human race. I like kids; I've got plenty of nephews and nieces. I don't hate breeders, my family and some friends have bred, but it's just not for me. Some people look at you weird when you say you don't want kids, they're the people I don't like. But seriously I'm not going to waste my energy on them.

this is an interview
done by email, the person wishes to remain anonymous
for the sake of their partner.

Dnb – so what's your story mister x?

X – a while ago I had a scary and confusing experience, my partner found out she had herpes.

Dnb – so what was that like?

X – pretty fucked up. We had both travelled a bit and weren't really sure where it came from. I had recently had hiv tests, and being safe and she was on the pill we started having unprotected sex. I'd never done it before; I was paranoid so I always used condoms, so it was a new experience for me.
We'd been going out a few months and being monogamous it was a safe thing, or so I thought.

Dnb – how did she find out? How did it all start?

X – after a particularly heavy weekend of partying we both felt a bit rundown. A day or 2 later she got a weird rash on her thighs and vagina. She went to the doctor and by the time she was there she felt like shit. The doctor confirmed it was genital herpes. But did the tests just to make sure. She rang me soon after and told me what it was. I was in shock, freaking out and asking questions. I had travelled a bit recently, so of course I thought it was my fault.

Dnb – it must've fucked with your mind a lot, all those questions unanswered, what happened next?

X – I went to get tested a.s.a.p. and got as much info s I could from wherever I could get it. The next few weeks I was shitscared, but at the same time I was trying to help her as much as I could. We rang each other a lot during that time, trying to sort out what was happening and we both cried a lot. Finally my tests came back and they were negative. I was confused what did this mean, what the fuck was going on. After a few visits to the doctor, I sorted it out. I didn't have the virus.

Dnb – so after you found out you were clear, how did it affect you as a couple? Did much change?

X – it was confusing for me because for the few weeks before I got the results, I told myself I was the one who infected her because I had travelled recently, and that's a shit of a thing to be burdened with, that you infected someone. Then when I got the good news I think it made it confusing for her because she had no idea who she got it from. It's the way it is as a virus, it's really hard to tell who infects who, and it's more common than people think, something like one in 5 knows they have it in some form. How many don't know? It's scary. The two types can sway you can get genital herpes on your mouth and oral herpes on your genitals. They say that the first time the symptoms come up is the worst, it may come back but it'll never be as bad as the first time.

As a couple I think it strengthened our relationship because we went through all this shit and still wanted to be together. It was a bit weird.

Dnb – how did it affect your sex life?

X – it changed things, of course, but it didn't get worse, it made some stuff better. Oral sex was risky so we decided to not do it, which I was torture at first because I love pussy and love the taste even more, I could spend hours there. Now thanks to a little sexual adjustment I have replaced my tongue with my fingers (and other stuff) and with all the practice I've become "mr magic fingers." And that also leaves the mouth to do other stuff to other parts. We went back to using condoms, of course, but that not all bad because it makes it less messy. You adapt to your situation, to quote a line I heard somewhere, "crisis precipitates change."

Dnb – so how are things between you 2 now?
X – we aren't together any more but we're still friends. we've got something that brought us closer while we were together and it may be the link that we'll always have. What didn't kill us made us stronger.

Dnb – so how are you now?

X – a bit paranoid, maybe sometimes too much. But life involves risk and I could die tomorrow, so ill live my life, just a bit wiser and safer than before.

Mucophagy

Mucophagy, consuming nasal mucosa, is done as a matter of course in nasolinguus. Others may engage in mucophagy because of the implied self degradation, or simply the novelty of it. Like the consumption of other body secretions, mucophagy can be used to demonstrate total acceptance and love of a partner.

Emetophilia

(emein: to vomit; philia: attachment to)

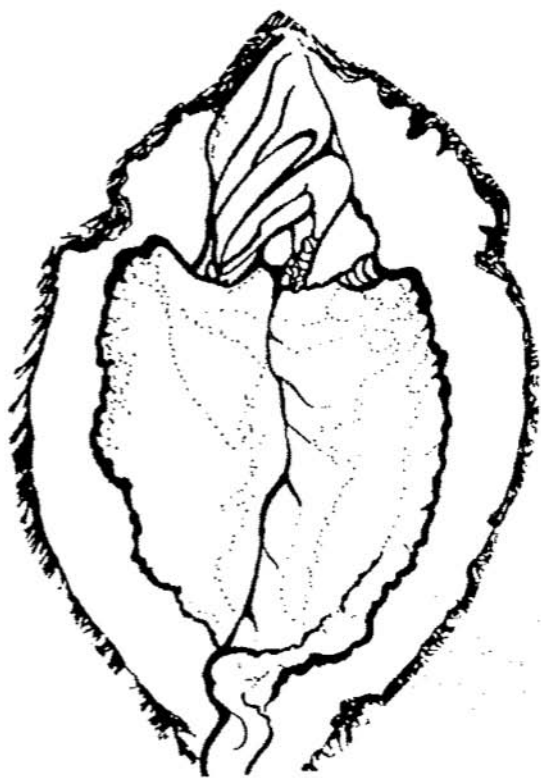

Refers to those who are aroused by vomit or vomiting. These people usually ingest wine or urine and then vomit it out; sometimes onto their partner. A few men have deliberately encouraged their date to overeat and drink. Afterwards, using the condition to stimulate vomiting by using their penis during fellatio to start a gag reflex in their partner.

There is a practice known as chocolate mousse and it consists of a combination of a roman and a brown shower.

The person swallows whipped cream and then their partner gives them an enema with chocolate pudding. Once prepared the person defecates the pudding onto their partner and then vomits whipped cream on top. This creates a dessert for one or both

stupid porn

While working in a porno store I noticed that the soft core magazines have to put hard-core blurbs on the front cover because they aren't aloud to do hard-core photos, but in the end it just sounds really lame and funny, so bad that it's good.

Here is some:

Stranded cock slut must eat jism to survive
Degenerate nurses must operate on dick
Sex starved anal tramp begs lather me with jizz
Chasey lane defiles her high priced hole
Sorority sisters forbidden ass eating rituals
Dildo dilemma "where oh where has my little dong gone
Lean teen fingering machine, feel me, diddle me, do me
Fly girlie opens her sticky trap
Brown eye girl, I have one virgin hole left
My dentist filled my cavity with cock
This aint porridge, goldilocks sucks cock
Wash her mouth out with jizz
Teenage jizz junkie blows bums for ball sauce

"Like a mauve carnation puckered up
And dim it breathes, meekly nestled amid the foam
damp, too from caresses tracing the smooth dome
of creamy buttocks up to the innermost
rim"

"Sonnet to the Asshole"

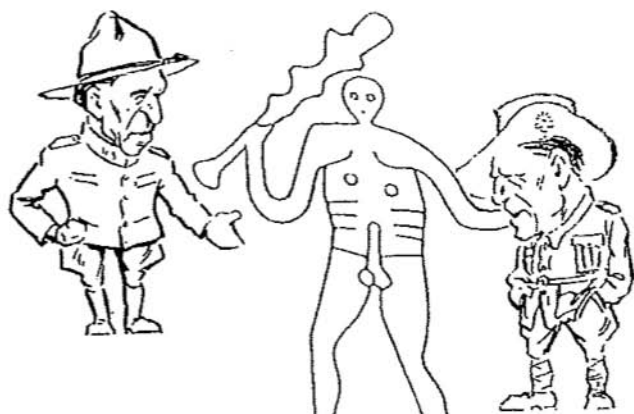

by Paul Verlaine and Arthur Rimbaud

there are variations in the type of sensation people enjoy during anal and vaginal fisting, usually involving differences in depth, width and thrust. Depth is accomplished by carefully following the vaginal cavity to the end or the anal chamber through the rectum and descending colon to the transverse colon, which feels as though it's lined in fur.
